F.A.B

F.A.B aka Fabriazo Langford, hails from Booysens Park, Port Elizabeth. He started rapping at the age of 11 doing some of SNOW's rhymes on the street corners of Booysens Park and at age 13 he started writing his own material. He relocated to Johannesburg in 2004 and has been developing his music and growing his fan base ever since. He has worked with super star Stefan Ludik on 3 tracks namely "Thug life", "Lose control" and "Keep it real".

In 2013 F.A.B released several singles from his album Masterpiece, creating a fresh hip hop sound in the industry. Combining art, creativity, maturity and passion he is definitely putting South Africa on the international map. With a fan base that spans over different races and age groups and songs from rap, electronic dance and some soulful conscious hip hop and his electric and humour filled performances he has managed to capture hearts all across the world and will be going on tour in Europe mid 2014 with the help of European based Five2Eight Music Group.

F.A.B is an incredible live performer and is very passionate about connecting and reaching new fans all over the world. He is a trained tattoo artist and thus appreciates art in different forms other than music and anyone he gets to work with, from kids all across to the more mature audience as shown in the media pictures below.

With his recent hit single 'Now I understand' that has taken over radio and TV locally and internationally with a video featuring TV stars from local soapies he has set himself apart from other artists. His strong presence on social networks and internet as a whole plus the crossover appeal of his music has allowed him to get a dedicated following from different races and ages making him the true definition of a universal international artist.

In 2014, F.A.B secured a publishing, distribution and marketing deal with Australian based Blue Pie Records and Honk Kong based DJ Central Records. With the help of Cedric Matshazi, CEO of PIYE Records and the label support team at DJ Central Records, FAB will be released on the SONY RED platform in the USA with his new album.

F.A.B is a DJ Central Records and PIYE Records artist and is available at all leading digital retailers on the planet. Search under "F.A.B"
